DUAL QUALIFICATIONS
- Small Business Management
- Marriage Celebrancy

Achieve Both Qualifications!

Whilst completing the Certificate IV in Marriage Celebrancy, students will complete all of the required units of competency (except one) to achieve the Certificate IV in Small Business Management. With the addition of one extra unit, achieving the units of competency listed below, you will be awarded both qualifications: Certificate IV in Marriage Celebrancy and Certificate IV in Small Business Management.

Certificate IV in Marriage Celebrancy CHC41502

This Certificate IV in Marriage Celebrancy has been designed to provide you with the requisite training to be appointed as a Marriage Celebrant including: knowledge of the responsibilities and obligations of a Marriage Celebrant under the Marriage Act and Regulations; planning; performing and reviewing a ceremony; and all aspects of running a marriage celebrant business.

Have fun whilst learning with other like-minded people. The course includes a range of practical and interesting topics completed in a face-to-face week of workshops, followed by supported distance learning to complete the remainder of units.

Certificate IV in Small Business Management BSB40401

This Certificate IV has been designed to help you achieve the Certificate IV in Small Business Management (BSB40401) and provide the skills and knowledge to assist you in business success. For example, more than 96% of small businesses in Queensland are small business (Smart Small Business 2004). In a competitive arena such as this it is important that you plan and maximise your product and/or services to your best advantage.
Small business operators need to be not only entrepreneurial but have a great foundation of small business management skills. In today’s environment you not only need to be innovative, but you need to be flexible, technologically savvy, and strive to improve and change your services to reflect your consumers needs. This training is an investment in the potential success of your small business.

The qualification has been designed to be extremely practical, and we will encourage you to work on your own business, or your employer’s so that the learning has a personal or a company reward.
